Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Murphy in view of Arimori.

Murphy discloses the use of a music rack used for keeping a document thereon comprising: a desk board on which the document is put and changed from a rest position through a maximum attitude angle position to a release position and an attitude changing system(77) provided between a stationary member and the desk board (see figure 4), permitting the desk board to unidirectionally change the position from the rest position to the maximum attitude angle position and allowing the desk board to return the rest position when the desk board reaches the release position.

Murphy does not specifically disclose the use of the board changing positions in a stepless manner.

Arimori specifically discloses the use of the board for a piano with a board changing positions in a stepless manner (column 5, lines 45-50).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the device as disclosed by Murphy with the stepless rack as disclosed by Arimori in order to provide a device that is allows a board to move from various positions with very little force.

3. Claims 2-15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 and 16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
